

A family has recently lost their house and has been staying in an abandoned building in your community. Word has been spreading around the community that the family has been living in the building and it has been making some people in the community upset. They do not feel that they should be living homeless, in their community. You go to your parents to speak to them about ways your family can help the homeless family out. What ways can you and your family, help this other family?

---

---

---

A village in Nicaragua has recently been denied access to clean drinking water. A teenager recently stole fruit from a farmer because their family had no food and they wanted to help their family eat. As punishment to the whole village the government has removed the water supply. Upset by this the village has gotten together to discuss their options; what can they do to get their water supply back?

---

---

---

You live next door to a Muslim family and someone has recently vandalized their house with hateful words. You go outside and see the writing and the family speaking with the police. You also see the other neighbors outside staring. After the police leave the family begins to clean their house as the other neighbors go inside and continue their day. You do not feel comfortable ignoring what just happened and go over to speak with the family and help them clean their house. What else can you do to help your neighbor?

---

---

---

You and your friends enjoy going to the park in your community to hangout. You have recognized over the past few months that the amount of litter in the park has grown a noticeable amount. Thinking back you have witnessed some of your friends drop wrappers and soda bottles on the ground. You then realize you have done so as well. You feel that you and your friends did not do this on purpose but because there are no garbage cans around. You feel that you and your friends can help fix this problem. What are some ways you and your friends can fix the litter problem?

---

---

---